ADP Plastics Celebrates 20 Years in Business, Adds Retail Line

Batavia, Ill. (June 3, 2008) . . . ADP Plastics, a premier design and manufacturing firm specializing in custom fabricated plastic products, is celebrating its 20th anniversary and recent expansion into retail e-commerce.

In addition to its custom line of products for the financial, food & beverage, institutional, laboratory, retail/point-of-purchase, real estate and safety industries, ADP now offers a full retail line of products for the real estate industry. These sales tools, designed for realtors, are available for direct purchase. Realtors will now be able to reduce their sales costs by working directly with the manufacturer. Additional retail lines are planned for other industries ADP serves.

“We have provided the real estate industry with dynamic solutions for two decades, and recognize the importance of responding to its market fluctuations,” said Diane Sullivan, ADP president. “Effectively reaching its customers is critical for the industry’s survival, and in the current market many of our clients need to quickly implement their ideas and events to stay ahead of the curve. The retail line allows us to quickly respond to this need while our customized solutions help our clients distinguish themselves among their competition.”

Founded June 10, 1988, ADP has enjoyed remarkable growth in its 20 years of service. The firm has expanded multiple times, doubling its space each time.

“Our success is a combination of the talent and efforts of our strong, skilled and dedicated team, and a loyal, supported and satisfied client base,” said ADP President Diane Sullivan, who co-founded ADP and became its sole owner in 1996. “Whether we’re dealing with a start-up or an international conglomerate, we work hard at understanding our customers’ needs, getting the job done right, on time and at a fair price.”

Sullivan also attributes the firm’s success to its practice of offering many “in-house” services including design assistance, bar coding, blind and drop shipping, distribution, national and international tracking, order reporting services, packaging, private labeling, and rollout management.

“Our customers trust that with ADP their projects run smooth from beginning to end,” said Sullivan. “That is critical in a highly competitive industry such as ours.”
